GOVERNMENT PLEADED BY LEWIS ACTION

Truman Prepares Public Statement on Wage, Price Policies

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—President Truman said today he was very happy John L. Lewis called off the coal strikers and disclosed he expected to make a statement on wage and price policies.

Mr. Truman noted at a news conference that Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, ended the strikes as a matter of public interest. The President observed there would be very little trouble if everybody acted in the same interest.

Tomorrow, the President said, he expects to discuss the wage-price situation with the cabinet.

Speeches on wages and prices by Reconstruction Director John W. Snyder, Mr. Truman said, set forth already proclaimed administration views. Snyder indicated the government favors holding the line on living costs while permitting some rise in wages.

Asked if he favored repeal of the Smith-Connally Labor act, the President replied it was a matter for congress.

Miners to Return Monday

While there was speculation over Lewis motives in ending the mine stoppage, the government displayed frank relief over the turn of events.

Labor, reconversion and solid fuels officials hopefully assumed the 216,000 striking bituminous coal miners would return to work Monday as directed by the United Mine Workers' president.

The strikes, which started Sept. 21, had threatened to halt reconversion.

The threat to steel—and thence to autos and a score of basic industries—had been multiplying daily with the loss of more than a million tons with each work cycle.

Most labor sources expected Lewis would renew his demand on the operators for unionization of the supervisory, clerical and technical employees—the issue in the strikes—when he reopens the contract next March 31.

Lewis may have been convinced the alternative to ending the strikes—calling out all 400,000 soft coal miners and possibly the 72,000 anthracite miners as well—would not be a smashing success. It's hard to get production workers to lose pay over their foremen-bosses' grievances.

The mine leader has been showing increasing concern over public opinion.

POOLROOM OWNERS WILL VISIT MAYOR

Mayor R. R. Johnson said today that he intended to call in for a conference within the next few days the operators of three Salem poolrooms on charges that "teen-age youths were loitering in their places while being absent from school."

The complaint was filed by Trust Officer Clyde Reich, who, on several occasions had tracked down missing pupils, locating them in a pool room. He appealed to city authorities for assistance.

Miners Ready To Return To Jobs

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—The great soft coal strike was over by order of UMW President John L. Lewis but it probably will be a week or more before all the miners are back in the pits and coal production is normal again.

Told of Lewis' order, the Pittsburgh UMW office said rank and file miners "had no grievance" and would return as soon as the mine supervisors, who called the strike, returned.

Eastern Ohio miners appeared happy over the settlement, one commenting the stoppage had cost him $250 in pay. All seemed anxious to return to work.

The coal-starved steel industry, too, welcomed the end of the strike. U. S. Steel Corp. said it could get back to normal production and reemploy all its 15,700 furloughed employees in Pennsylvania.

Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., with 1,100 idle at its Aliquippa, Pa., mill, said it would be running full blast again "as soon as possible," the time depending on "how long it takes to get the coal from mines and have it processed."

Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. reported it was losing 15,000 tons daily steel production when the strike was called off.

Truman Asks That British Let More Jews In Palestine

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—President Truman said today he had asked Prime Minister Attlee to admit 100,000 Jews to Palestine and that the matter is still under consideration by Britain.

The President made this disclosure at a news conference at which he also said no additional "Big Three" meeting is contemplated to settle the stalemate which developed from the London Council of Foreign Ministers.

The President said he did not want to push the British unduly in their consideration of further Jewish immigration to Palestine. He said Attlee didn't want to admit as many as 100,000.

The whole matter, he said, still is being considered.

The President also told reporters European rehabilitation and relief would have to be continued through UNRRA unless the United States wants to assume the whole burden.

He made this comment when asked about criticism of UNRRA by members of congress, recently returned from Europe.

UNIFIED OFFICE, MARSHALL PLEA

Army Chief Pleads For World-Wide System Of Espionage

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Gen. George C. Marshall told senators today this country no longer can depend on "coffee cup" intelligence work but must have a world-wide espionage system.

The general of the armies urged maintenance of an over-all intelligence setup as an adjunct to the proposed merger of the Army and Navy into one military department.

"We should know as much as possible about the intent, as well as the military capabilities, of every country in the world," he testified before the senate military affairs committee.

Marshall said that before the war this country depended on information that could be obtained by military attaches "over the coffee cups at some dinner."

At the same time, the five star general said, all of the rest of the world was finding out what the United States was doing.

Marshall, pleading for a unified postwar Army-Navy department, said today the Navy neither "consulted nor informed" the Army when it made its postwar plans.

The chief of staff told the senate military committee it had been exceedingly difficult during the war to get agreement on conflicting ideas of Army and Navy leaders.

The general declared that under separate commands the War and Navy departments would compete with each other in peacetime for congressional appropriations.

The committee, studying the nation's postwar military problems, is expected to get a request from Mr. Truman that every able bodied young man be required to take a year of military training.

Legislators who had talked with Mr. Truman reported he would make the request in a message to congress Tuesday.

Pleads Not Guilty In Death of Baby

Judge Sharp appointed Att'y's James McSweeney of Wellsville and Raymond Buzzard as defense counsel and gave them several days for the defendant to change her plea.

Mrs. Long was indicted by the grand jury on the first degree murder charge.

Charged With War, Crimes That Ensued

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The Allied powers indicted 24 German leaders and six Nazi organizations today on charges of starting the world's greatest war and committing history's most horrible mass crimes of murder, torture, devastation and hate.

The leaders named are former key men in Adolf Hitler's government and top generals and admirals of the German high command.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—One name is conspicuously missing from the list of German leaders indicted for major war crimes. It is mentioned frequently throughout the 25,000-word text of the indictment, however. The name—Adolf Hitler.

The Allied prosecutors who drew up the indictment ventured no guesses as to his current address.

Basically they are accused of a gigantic "plan or conspiracy," dating from 1921, to rule Germany and conquer other lands they wanted. Their strategy: Treachery and terror first, finally a deliberate aggressive war.

The 25,000-word accusation was drawn for presentation to the four-power war crimes court at Berlin. It sums up in cold legal form Allied fury over Nazi outrages, and it forces the men accused of responsibility to answer for their acts.

The bulk of the indictment is a recital of horrors.

The Nazis and their high command associates are blamed officially for the brutal slaughter of about 10,000,000 helpless persons, civilians and prisoners of war.

About 4,000,000 were slain at Auschwitz concentration camp alone, the indictment says, and another 1,500,000 in notorious Maidanek.

9,600,000 Jews Under Nazis Disappeared

9,600,000 Jews Disappeared
Of 9,600,000 Jews who came under Nazi domination in and out of Germany, the document asserts, 5,700,000 disappeared, "most of them deliberately put to death by Nazi conspirators."

The Nazis and their associates are accused also of:

Of torturing civilians under "protective arrest" in the "most unhealthy and inhuman conditions."

Of mass murders of defenseless people by gassing and shooting.

Of incredibly cruel "scientific" experiments on women.

Of drawing the blood of children.

Of shooting hostages, ill-treating and murdering war prisoners and of plundering or wiping out by wholesale destruction the cities and towns of lands they occupied.

"American prisoners, officers and men, were murdered in Normandy during the summer of 1944 and in the Ardennes in December, 1944," the official document declares.

"American prisoners were starved, beaten and otherwise mistreated in numerous stage prisons camps, a number of which were occupied by the Nazis in 1943, 1944 and 1945."

The indictment furnished the basis for projected trial of German Nazi and military leaders by the Anglo-American-French-Soviet military tribunal at Nuremberg, Germany. It was drawn up by prosecutors of the four Allied nations, including Justice Robert H. Jackson for the United States. It was released simultaneously in the Allied capitals and in Germany.

Highest Hitler Aides To Be Taken Alive

The 24 men named as defendants were the highest in Adolf Hitler's Nazi government to be taken alive. Among them are Herman Goering, Rudolf Hess, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Robert Ley, all key Hitler officials, Generals Wilhelm Keitel and Alfred Jodl; Admirals Karl Doenitz and Erich Raeder; Industrialist Gustav Krupp Von Bohlen Und Halbach; Financier Hjalmar Schacht.

Against most of them the indictment makes four sweeping, general accusations: (1) crimes against peace in starting the war, (2) war crimes in violation of the accepted laws of war, (3) crimes against humanity which includes Jewish persecutions, and (4) conspiring together to commit these crimes.

Organizations indicted are Hitler's Nazi party and the Gestapo (secret police), and the SA (a police and military training organization).

The previously announced intention of the prosecution is to prove these to be criminal organizations so that any person legally found to be a member would be convicted automatically as a criminal.

Today's indictment traces the great Nazi conspiracy from the emergence of Hitler as a political leader in 1921, through his election as chancellor of the German republic in 1933 and his suppression of all opposition in Germany immediately thereafter. The Nazi party is described as "The central core" of the conspiracy.

Three War Aims Attributed To Nazi Party

Three aims are attributed to the Nazis:

1. To destroy the treaty of Versailles and its restrictions on German military power.
2. To regain German territories lost in World War I and other European territories occupied by "racial Germans" such as the Sudetenland, and
3. To acquire "living space" in Europe and elsewhere.

"The aims and purposes of the Nazi conspirators were not fixed or static," the indictment declared, "but evolved and expanded as they acquired progressively greater power and became able to make more effective application of threats of force and threats of aggressive war."

Thus the Nazis—consolidating their power inside Germany through suppression of liberties, persecutions of Jews and other means—progressed to the point where in 1936-39 they took over Austria and Czechoslovakia and invaded Poland, "thus precipitating war with the United Kingdom and France."

It was but a matter of time then until all the Allied world, including the United States, was drawn into the conflict.

American entry as a result of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor is linked to the German-Japanese military alliance and to the fact that after Japan struck Germany declared war on this country.

The Fourth Party

During the war it was evident that three sides were involved in strikes—employees, their employers and the government.

The government, as purchaser of most of the products of industry, was conceded to have the major stake in the outcome of industrial friction. Ability to prosecute the war was invariably affected in one way or another, and that circumstance gave the government the real or the assumed right to protect its wartime security. Government had a mandate for victory.

Today, the strike-involved triumvirate has been broadened. It is now a quartet. The new member is the public. The government's imperative need to prosecute the war has yielded to the public's ability to get on with the peace, but government still sits in on every decision in industrial relations.

The fundamental problem in labor relations as far as the government's part is concerned, therefore, is to do for the American public in peace what the public mandate to the government authorized during war—to perform in the national interest. The primary objective is no longer victory in war. The objective now is resumption of civilian production—victory in peace. It no longer can be claimed that every work stoppage jeopardizes the national war effort and therefore is an offense against government, which is responsible for the war effort. But it is beginning to be evident that work stoppages which jeopardize the national peace effort are offenses against the people and that government, if it is to assume authority to sit in on decisions, must accept responsibility for the consequences.

The Truman administration will be held answerable for the way it acquires itself of responsibility for minimizing interference with public convenience by pressure blocs claiming official sanction for their acts. The government holds a mandate for peace, but it has failed so far to act upon it in a forthright manner.

Defense Fallacy

The wishful belief that a defense against atomic bombs already has been discovered can be used to the fallacy that every new weapon's potency is quickly offset by a new defense. Thus, poison gas is offset by the gas mask. The bombing plane is offset by anti-aircraft weapons and radar. The submarine is offset by the destroyer, the land mine by the mine detector, and so on.

The record of new weapons and defense against them makes it plain, however, that the defense never catches up with the offense. The atomic bomb, if there are to be more wars, will kill and maim, regardless of defense, just as ordinary bombs killed and maimed in this war despite all the defense that could be rigged against them. Submarines, after two wars and a generation of research to find a defense, still rate as one of the major destroyers of all times. Gas attacks cannot be turned back with gas masks. Great Britain claimed a defense against buzz-bombs and even against rockets, but the statistics on death and maiming show clearly that the British were whistling in the dark.

That is what Americans are doing about atomic bombs—whistling in the dark. Common sense tells us that ultimately everybody will know how to manufacture them and that the United States should act accordingly. But we are reluctant to act on common sense, so we turn to imagination instead—that someone, perhaps Bing Crosby—already knows how to put a hex on the newest, biggest and baddest wolf that ever threatened to blow down civilization's house and kill everybody in it. It is a charming idea, but utterly foolish.

'Statesman For Unity'

The directors of Freedom House, in presenting General Eisenhower with their organization's annual Freedom award, described him as a "soldier of peace, statesman for unity, builder of democracy." And the speech, broadcast from Germany, in which the general accepted the award, reaffirmed the truth of that description.

It demonstrated again that this brilliant professional soldier is indeed a statesman, whether he considers himself one or not, and a statesman of high purpose, clear thinking and realistic horse sense.

"It is easy," General Eisenhower said, "to say that the seeds of war are found in each of us in our selfishness. . . . It is easy enough to make glittering generalities about the blessings of peace and the stupidity and the futility of war. We are living in a world of harsh realities and one of these is acknowledged weakness within ourselves. The problem must be solved in full understanding of these difficulties. The solution, therefore, must appeal to self-interest as well as to idealism."

The general then listed four needed steps toward world peace:

- (1) A strong national defense to fulfill our obligation to protect as well as to enjoy our free institutions.
- (2) The obligation of prosperous nations to guide their economies so that fear of starvation shall not exist in any country.
- (3) An agreement to combat the war-breeding emotions of mutual suspicion and antagonism by accurate teaching of the history of all nations and races throughout the world.
- (4) Alert watchfulness by the United Nations organization for the appearance of a power-hungry national leader like Hitler who might lead a people into "the vicious doctrine that whatever they may seize and hold is rightfully their own."

All these suggestions are, of course, interrelated.

All are hard-headedly realistic. And each has its opponents among "realistic" Americans, in Washington and on Main Street.

To these realists, a strong national defense is extravagant, militaristic, and an invitation for attack. To them, in this day of trans-oceanic bombers, efforts toward mutual understanding are a waste of time, and a move to suppress dictatorship anywhere a violation of the creed of "minding our business and letting them mind theirs."

The suggestion that we should try to eliminate the fear of starvation anywhere brings shouts of "do-gooders" and "a quart of milk for every Hottentot."

Yet General Eisenhower, who is not a do-gooder but a soldier interested in preserving peace, says: "No principal section of the earth should become so habitually impoverished that its inhabitants reach the stark conclusion that no catastrophe—even war—could represent a worsening of the situation."

With the help of General Eisenhower and others like him, we may yet come to realize that narrowness and realism are not synonymous, and that in this modern world humanitarianism and tolerance, like honesty, are not only moral obligations but the best practical policy.

The Stars Say

For Friday, October 19.

UNDER excellent stimuli from major planets, this should be a memorable day for its success, happiness, with a general marshalling of many and varied assets and possessions combining to bring about this felicitous condition, affecting all departments of life. It is probable that hard work, sterling character, sound judgment with responsibility and fidelity to obligations may be crowned with rich rewards, culminating in glamor, romance and fair fortune. The social, cultural and domestic life offers much diversion, but be careful as to peculiar, subtle or intriguing involvements or irregularities.

Those whose birthday it is are at the threshold of a year of rich rewards, coming in recognition of loyalty, sense of duty and obligation, hard work and stability in many relations in life. All such are blessed with prospect of security, comfort and solidarity, with many personal joys and gratifications.

It is a propitious time to march confidently upon such happy goals, although there might be a note of warning against dubious entanglements or intrigues, subtle, perhaps illicit or pernicious, in intimate contact. Be not carried away by glamor, confusion, bewilderments, imagination.

A child born on this day may have sound and sterling qualities of mind, heart and character, and should reap rich rewards.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

A Painful Kidney Ailment

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ONE of the most painful disorders that affect mankind is renal colic. The condition starts suddenly and the pain is sharp, usually beginning in the back and passing downward into the groin and lower part of the abdomen. However, not all cases are typical. In some instances the pain may be in the back or in the lower part of the abdomen alone.

The most common cause of renal colic is the formation of a stone in the kidney. The pain occurs when the stone passes from the kidney down the ureter, which is the tube that leads from the kidney to the bladder. However, there are other causes and it should not be assumed that when renal colic occurs a stone must be present.

Determine Source
In each instance of renal colic it is necessary that the patient be completely studied to determine the source of the trouble. A complete study includes a careful physical examination and X-ray plates of the kidney, ureter, and bladder.

To make the latter, the doctors inject a certain substance into a vein and after some period of time take the X-ray plates. The material is excreted into the kidneys and, when the X-ray is taken, the kidney, ureter, and bladder are clearly visible in the plate.

Seen In X-Ray

If, perchance, there is some blocking of the flow of the urine at the point where the ureter empties into the bladder, it will be seen in the X-ray plate. The ureter will be swollen or distended, and the pelvis of the kidney, or that part where the secretions collect before they empty into the bladder, will also be increased in size.

Sometimes blood vessels are out of their normal position and pass over the ureters. These blood vessels may produce sufficient pressure on the ureter to block the flow of the kidney excretions, and renal colic may develop. Sometimes a kink will occur in the ureter which blocks it. In other instances, the kidney itself may get out of its normal position and become twisted. This will also produce blocking of the ureter.

In view of the fact that there are so many different conditions which may produce renal colic, the importance of a complete study should be borne in mind whenever such an attack occurs. Operative treatment is often required, but in many instances the disturbance

PIN-WORMS

At Last—
A Real Treatment!

Anyone who has ever had Pin-Worms knows how tormenting and embarrassing this infection can be, and how hard it may be to deal with the creatures, once they get a foothold inside the body.

Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug (gentian violet), a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P.W., the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son. P.W. tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms. So watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself—especially the aggravating rectal itch. And don't delay. Ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P.W. right away, and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed, or your money back. It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

your electric bill
to pieces

GO AHEAD, lady—tear your electric bill apart and see what it's all about.

This little piece lights all your lamps. This one plays your radios. This cools and keeps your food. This washes your clothes. This takes care of the cooking and ironing and cleaning. And so on.

That's a lot of different jobs to be covered by one small bill.

And—hold on! You've paid for more than just electricity. About 25c of every dollar you pay for electric service goes in turn for taxes which benefit your community and help pay for the war.

Taxes UP. . . . General cost of living UP. . . . You'd think the cost of electric service would be up, too. But it isn't. It's even come down a little since the war began. Actually—

The average family gets about twice as much electricity for its money today as it did fifteen years ago!

This welcome fact comes from the careful planning and progressive spirit of America's business-managed, self-supporting electric companies.

BY HAL BOYLE
WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN JAPAN — More new stories from old notebooks.

The American Fifth army was stalemated before Cassino. It was January, 1944. The Italian landscape was sodden with cold rains. Troops even then were beginning to suspect that Italy had more hills than a snake's spine. And Germans were on every hill. The "soft underbelly of the Axis" was a myth. The Nazis had retreated slowly from the Volturno, skillfully selling the ground for as high a blood price as possible. But once backed into his powerful Cassino mountain line, Field Marshall Kesselring wasn't yielding a mole mound. From their ridge heights the Germans could look across a valley and see American-held "million dollar hill." The doughboys named it that because they said it cost a million dollars worth of artillery shells to take it.

Rain fell every day, the roads and fields were muddy messes and everybody on both sides was tired. In a miry meadow some miles behind the front, a tank outfit was bivouacked awaiting its call to action. With time on their hands to improvise shelter the boys had made themselves as comfortable as they could in the winter.

Italian peasants noted with considerable envy one group of seven doughboys who had set up housekeeping in a cave. In a land short of fuel they had managed to find both coal and wood ration boxes, and a fire burned brightly all day. They were warm, dry and happy. But they seemed to have a distaste for the Italian farmers, motioning them away brusquely whenever they approached the cave.

One day an Italian peasant while chatting with the tank commander asked why there was favoritism in the American army. The surprised commander asked his meaning.

"Well," said the peasant, "most of your men have to stay in the muddy field and work on their tanks, but on that other side of that hill—they pointed—"there are seven soldiers who do nothing all day but sit in a warm cave."

The commander decided to pay a visit on these fortunate individuals. As he neared the cave he called out to a soldier in the doorway wearing an infantryman's uniform:

"What outfit grant you with, son?" The soldier granted unintelligibly and pointed vaguely over the hill. He began to back away. Out came the commander's gun. He knew something was wrong. As the soldier turned and shouted a warning to his comrades in guttural tones, the commander stepped to the entrance and covered the group.

"Okay," said the soldier reassuringly. "Okay what?" said the commander.

But that was all the English the soldier knew. The seven men were Germans. They had deserted their army and donned American uniforms, probably obtained by stripping battlefield dead. They had heeled up in the cave and watched the American army sweep on past them. They were afraid of returning to their own lines for fear of being shot—or so they said—and afraid of going deeper into the American lines for fear of being captured. So they were just sweating the war out in their cave bungalow.

As the red-faced and angry commander marched them toward prison camp, he swore wrathfully: "What makes me so damn mad

Fairfield Secures Fire Protection

COLUMBIANA, Oct. 18 — City council Tuesday night entered into a new contract with Fairfield township for fire protection in the township. The contract is for one year.

Under the agreement, the city makes a charge of $50 a call, plus $1.50 an hour per fireman. Five hundred dollars annually, however, is the minimum payment the township may make.

The question of the city co-operating in the installation of lights at Firestone park stadium was discussed, members of council favoring the idea. Private financing of the project will probably be necessary, however, with the aid of the school athletic fund.

Necessary formalities for the certification of unpaid assessments for the Duquesne st. water and sewer improvement to the county auditor will be complete. The auditor will place these assessments on the tax duplicate.

Council set clean-up day for Tuesday, Oct. 30.

A locker plant and poultry dressing building, or addition to the present building, delayed by war conditions, will be erected soon.

Mrs. Homer Detwiler went to Columbus today to attend a meeting of the Ohio Federation of Women's Republican clubs as a delegate from the local club.

The Friendship class of the Methodist Sunday school will meet at 8 p. m. Friday at the home of Mrs. Craig Slagle, Park ave.

JAP DIAMOND CACHE FOUND

Americans Uncover Fortune In Gems; Nation Needs Food

(By Associated Press)
TOKYO, Oct. 18.—Fabulous fortunes in gold and diamonds occurred in the attention today of American forces in Japan where thousands of Japanese face a winter of hunger.

More than $30,000,000 worth of diamonds — largely government owned and many obtained through secret off the Japanese people — were discovered today in cheap thermos bottles in a safety deposit box.

Meanwhile, millions of dollars worth of gold and silver bullion began moving in U. S. Army trucks under escort from the bomb-battered government mint to the bank of Japan.

Tsuyiko Kagawa, Japanese Christian leader, urged Gen. MacArthur to divert part of the more than $200,000,000 in government valuables already seized to import food.

Kagawa said if part of the treasure could be used to import rice, salt, raw cotton and other scarce commodities, "I believe this could prove to be the greatest thing for the happiness of the Japanese people."

The fortune in diamonds, totaling 131,000 karats in weight, was found in the Mitsui Trust Co. vaults, deposited in the name of a Japanese government import and export control agency.

Some of the gems probably were obtained abroad, as the same type of campaign for them was conducted by the Japanese overseas.

The same government control agency also has 33,000 karats of diamonds in vaults at Osaka, considerable gold and nearly 250 pounds of platinum in various parts of Tokyo.

Another fortune in diamonds, belonging to Japanese admirals, was found hidden in a chicken coop atop a mountain north of Tokyo.

The movement of the gold from the mint is part of a plan to gather government precious metals in bank of Japan vaults in Tokyo and Osaka, pending instructions from Washington as to the disposition.

Prince Fumimaro Konoye, an advisor to the throne, told the newspaper Asahi today that Emperor Hirohito is watching with "great concern" the trend of American public opinion on the question of his possible abdication.

"His majesty, who accepted the Potsdam declaration, has a grave responsibility for the faithful execution of the terms of the declaration," Konoye said, "and considers his majesty cannot leave the throne before the obligation is discharged."

HOOVER PROTESTS CUT IN FBI FUNDS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover fears America may be in for a "rather serious crime wave."

But the house appropriations committee to which the G-Man chief expressed his concern declined to rescind a contemplated slash of $2,480,000 in FBI funds for the current year.

Predicting an increase in kidnapping, bank robbery and extortion, Hoover pleaded with the committee not to reduce the wartime strength of his agency too fast.

The budget bureau had recommended that FBI funds be cut from $35,829,000 to $33,349,000, thus reducing personnel from 10,872 to 6,000. Hoover asked to be allowed to keep 8,223 employees, but the committee went along with the budget bureau's findings.

Aeronautical Scientists Urge Research Allotment

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Congress heard today that aeronautical scientists believe airplanes will be built with speeds faster than sound—exceeding 750 miles an hour—and that there is no limit to their size.

The national advisory committee for aeronautics reported that revolutionary changes are in prospect both in the form of airplanes and the means of propulsion.

The statement was presented to the house appropriations committee in an appeal for continued allotments of money for research in aeronautics.

13 Convicts In Tenth Day of Hunger Strike

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—Thirteen prisoners, kept in solitary confinement at Eastern penitentiary started their tenth foodless day today—refusing to eat until prison officials let them see movies and permit them access to the exercise yard.

Deputy Warden Frank G. Martin said all 13 have taken water since they went on the hunger strike.

Eleven of the inmates tunneled under the prison wall and fled the jail April 3.

"They want another chance to escape," Martin said.

Questions and Answers On Problems of the Servicemen

WASHINGTON—Here are some questions from veterans regarding preference for Federal jobs.

Q. I want to establish my preference for an opening in the government with the Department of Agriculture. In filling my application which paper should I use to show honorable separation from the service?

A. Any one of the following: A certificate of honorable discharge; a certificate of transfer to the Fleet Naval Reserve or Marine Corps Reserve; a certificate of transfer to the Enlisted Reserve Corps; an order to the Retired List; a certificate of service or a release from active duty; W. D. AGO Form No. 53, "Report of Separation," provided item 27 is checked to show

"honorable;" an official statement from the War Department, Navy Department, Marine Corp., or Coast Guard; or an official statement from the Public Health Service that a commissioned officer is entitled to full military benefits.

Q. Are members of reserve corps units entitled to preference?

A. Yes, upon furnishing proof of service. They are not entitled, however, to preference on the basis of duty performed for training purposes only; such training includes the 15 days' annual training service by reservists, and the flight training of aviation cadets.

appointive grade, in Naval and Marine Corps Reserves before Aug. 4, 1942.

Q. I went to my old government office to get my job back but the boss said there was a question about my being in physical shape to handle it. I hurt my leg in Africa. Who has the last word on whether I am fit for my old job, the boss or a doctor?

A. Your boss is required to make a physical exam available to you and must submit the reports of the examination with the statement of why you are not physically able to handle your old job, to the Civil Service commission. The top appointing officer in the department will have the last word in deciding whether you should have your job back.

Game Time: 7:45.

Coach Ben Barrett's Quakers will be out to win one for the coach this weekend at Reilly stadium when the Struthers Big Red—formerly coached by Barrett—come to Salem with a record of one win, one tie and three losses to match wares with Salem, which has won two, lost two and tied one so far in 1945.

The scales give Struthers the edge in weight, but Barrett's charges have the best record, more experienced men and a team in somewhat better physical shape than the visitors.

Coach George Repasky, who took over the chores left in 1944 by Roy Hodges, now at East Liverpool as an assistant coach, has but one regular back for his 1944 Big Red team.

Thornton Regular
Frank Thornton, left end at 160 pounds, is the only starter now playing with the Big Red from last year. Repasky has lost Ed Maki, regular 44 quarterback, via the injury route in the Hubbard game.

Gene Sullivan at center and Mike Dugas at right half won letters last season but were not regulars.

The Big Red club, which will out-weigh Salem on the line and in the backfield, has lost to Lowellville (13-6), Youngstown Rayen (26-7), and Youngstown Wilson (25-7). Struthers tied Girard 12-12 and defeated Hubbard 6-0 for their only win.

Across the line Repasky will use, besides Thornton, Jim Needham and Charles Ballentine at tackles, Ray Fratilla and Don Wolfgang at guards, Sullivan at center and Ray Slaven at the other end.

Bob McPhee, a senior and basketball star, will fill the quarterback spot vacated by Maki. It's McPhee's first year of football.

At the halfback positions Repasky will start Vince Masaro and Dugas and Andy Fabis will begin the full-back duties.

Salem Has No Change
Coach Barrett indicated that his starting lineup would remain about the same as last week, when Dan Smith, Bob Boone, Eddie Bosick and Howard Herrington started in the backfield.

On the line Don Chappell and John Szymczyk will be in at ends, Louis Juliano and Lowell Myers at tackles and probably Jack Crawford and Lee Sprout at guards. Mc Hollinger will fill the center post as usual.

Game time is 7:45 and the Struthers band is expected to be on hand for the evening. The Salem band will give a special halftime show in observance of the Band Mothers' annual tag night.

KRALL, VERDOVA TO FILL BUCK STAR GAPS SATURDAY

Sarringhaus, Fisher Out This Week, Two Rookies To Fill Vacancies

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Oct. 18.—Left Halfback Jerry Krall, Ohio State university Freshman from Toledo, apparently will be the number one choice to replace the injured Paul Sarringhaus against Purdue here Saturday if the Hamilton, O., star can't play.

Both Ohio State and Purdue are undefeated this season.

"The Purdue boys are in the best shape they've ever been in," declared Bob Woodward, Purdue athletic publicity director who arrived here last night.

The Bucks went through another rough and tumble scrimmage emphasizing offense. Sarringhaus and Right Halfback Dick Fisher, both injured Tuesday, remained on the sidelines.

Krall Over Daugherty
Coach Carroll Widows indicated Krall's superior running ability gave him a slight edge over Hal Daugherty as the substitute for Sarringhaus.

Krall worked with Alex Verdova who took over Fisher's half post.

Widows reported Don Steinberg, left end, was being trained for the right end position and 207-pound Ernie Santora, a guard, was being converted to tackle.

Ticket Director Henry Taylor declared the last 6,000 general admissions were sold yesterday.

SPORT CHATTER
BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Basketball seems to be on its way toward becoming our national game—at least in winter—if the southern colleges only move into the big time.

New England is looking for a big season with Boston college returning to action after a 20-year lapse, Holy Cross on the big time and Rhode Island state moving into the Boston Garden double-headers—Bill Mokray, Boston basketball boss, hopes to make up for last season's $11,000 loss by putting at least one New England team in every game.

Harvard and Yale won't be on those bills, of course, but the Crimson ought to do well since Wyndol Gray, who starred for Bowling Green (Ohio) last year, has turned up there as a Navy trainee and Yale won't be any worse for having Art Dakos, rated the best schoolboy cager in Massachusetts last season.

BOB NOSE BEST
After Bob Deubner, U. of Penn back, busted his nose running into teammate Bob Evans in last week's North Carolina game, the coaches fearfully asked Deubner how he felt.

"Oh, I'm fine," Bob replied, "This has fixed me up just right. I can breathe as well as before. I broke my nose the first time."

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES
Eleven of the players in the late unlamented World Series are graduates of American Legion Junior baseball. Yes, the world is junior.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Lewis Atchison, Washington Star: "It is bruited about that the Redskins' board of strategy is peeved because the players outnumber them by one."

JACOBS BATTLING TO SETTLE FIGHT FOR LOUIS-CONN

Seeks Site of Fight As Well As Signature Of Irishman

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Mike Jacobs is a New Jersey tulip grower with an ambidextrous ability as a fight promoter.

And today he was busy with both hands.

With one, he was shoving a pen into Billy Conn's dainty "duke," trying to get the Pittsburgh pretty boy to forget his "beefs" and sign on the dotted line for a return go with Joe Louis. With the other, Mike was holding an "auction" over the site of the Louis-Conn nose-mashing.

With this left-handed job, Uncle Mike was trying to tell you how the $3,000,000 taffy-pull next June would go to the place "we'll get the most money." He explained Philadelphia and Chicago were running neck-and-neck for the big pot, but he was open to all offers.

However, around Jacobs' beach, the wild waves were saying the Windy City would have to put up the Loop and the City of Brotherly Love would have to give up Billy Penn from off the top of City hall to get this tussle out of Yankee Stadium, N. Y., when post-time rolls 'round.

Not New York
The only thing standing in the way, according to the beachcombers, was the 5 per cent "bite" New York state puts on fight movies.

As for getting Conn to sign up for the fuss, Mike had a session lined up today with the legal member of Billy's fistie family, as a follow-up to the howling party he had with Billy's manager, Johnny Ray, yesterday.

Johnny, making his first New York appearance since Billy was belted out by Joe in the 13th round in June, 1941, told Mike his chief objection was to the contract clause that said the late Army corporal couldn't have any exhibition or tune-up appearances before the big beak-busting party.

Bowling Schedule
FRIDAY NIGHT
Adrian's Women's League
Howdy vs Endres; Phil's vs Hannels; Lape vs Salem Concrete; Salem Eng. vs Bowling Center; Haldi vs Deming; Eagles vs Finney's.

Add Team To Ohio Loop
COLUMBUS, Oct. 18.—Frank M. Colley, president of the Ohio State league, reported today that a loop franchise had been granted Richmond, Ind. He stated it was the seventh team to join the league. An eighth club remains to be chosen.

Colley said league officials here last night also decided to retain the league's Class D classification.

CHICAGO—Because those who formed them are now with other teams, the Budweisers of Chicago, 1942 American Bowling Congress champions, will not defend the title in the tournament in Buffalo, starting March 14.

AKRON, Oct. 18.—Akron North High school will defend its district cross-country running title at the annual meet, Director Larry Ricker of East High announced today.

Nine other schools, including South, Buchtel, East, Central and Garfield of Akron, Struthers, Warren Harding, Salem and Louisville, also were entered, Rucker said.

Indians Buy Black
CLEVELAND, Oct. 18.—Don Black, a 17-year-old right handed pitcher, has been purchased by the Cleveland Indians from the Philadelphia Athletics in a straight cash deal.

Purchase price was not disclosed. Black won five and lost 11 in 26 starts this past season.

Hockey Attendance Mounts On 2nd Night

(By Associated Press)

A total of 27,499 fans turned out last night for four American Hockey league games at Buffalo, Hershey, Providence and Pittsburgh as the top minor ice circuit got its 1945-46 season under way.

The largest turnout, 8,946, was at Buffalo where the eastern division championship Bisons went down before Indianapolis, 3 to 1.

Hershey, who nipped Cleveland, 4 to 3, in the league's formal opener at Cleveland Tuesday night, returned to their home ice, but were held at a 1-1 deadlock by the Barons before 7,200.

A crowd of 6,353, the largest opening audience in Providence's 19 years of hockey history, saw the Red whips the New Haven Eagles, 6 to 2.

At Pittsburgh 5,000 saw the Hornets beat the St. Louis Flyers, 4 to 2.

GREAT LAKES—Elwood Petchel, Penn State scabbard of last fall, has been assigned to Great Lakes by the Navy.

Greenberg Correction Leaves This Thought: Why Not Have Umps Decide Hits and Errors?

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

CHICAGO—The by now famous Greenberg correction in the sixth game of the World Series leaves this thought: Why not have the umpires decide hits and errors?

Certainly, old Bill Summers, umpiring at third base, was in a better position to see the unfortunate break that sent the meeting of wartime accidents to the limit that three veteran writers straining their eyes through a netting from seats atop the grandstand some 250 feet away.

Had Umpire Summers been calling hits and errors, too, the official scorers and everybody else in the press box immediately would have been given the traditional thumbs up signifying a hit. For it was plain that the ball Stanley Hack smacked in the 12th inning struck a sprinkler attachment or something and bounded crazily three feet over the stopping Hank Greenberg's right shoulder.

Incidentally, the official scorers' skull gave Third Baseman Hack the distinction of hitting the longest two-base hit on record. He belted a Dizzy Trout fast ball at 4:06 in the afternoon, and it was not swelled to a double until 10 o'clock that night.

UMPIRES rule whether a ball is fair or foul. They unhesitatingly make a decision deciding the World Series swag. So why not let them go all the way and decide between the hit and the error?

"Why saddle us with this additional burden?" asks Larry Goetz of the National league staff. The answer to this is that three or four umpires are assigned to each major league game. Among them they should find time to pick out a hit from an error while keeping their eyes on the ball.

Surely the umpires calling hits and errors should work out well in World Series if for no other reason than it would give the two alternates something to do. As things are, they simply sit behind the third base dugout cracking peanuts while waiting for one of the regulars to be incapacitated by a line drive or in some other fashion. Why not put them to work as hit and error arbiters? They could be stationed advantageously on foul lines.

THERE is a precedent for this relegating of hit and error authority to the umpires.

Entire clubs once appealed to the official scorer for a decision as to whether a player scored before the final putout on a run-down play. When league heads had enough of this, and the accompanying squawks, they wisely came to the conclusion that the decision should be made on the spot by the umpire-in-chief.

If the hit and error department was turned over to the boys in blue, I doubt that there would be any complaints from baseball writers eligible as such about official scorers being deprived of prerogatives.

That would make them recorders, which is what able writers know they should be instead of being designated as official scorers.

For they also fully realize that they are too far removed from the play to be competent judges.

Decisions of all kinds, including whether a batted ball is a hit or an error, should be left to the umpires.

It is for this that they are schooled, paid and put on top of the action.

German PW's Clear Mines At Dunkerque

DUNKERQUE—Visitors to Dunkerque sometimes have to rub their eyes and pinch themselves to make sure they are not dreaming—dreaming that the Germans are still occupying France.

The reason is that some 350 German prisoners, still dressed in their uniforms, are wandering around the town quite freely under the command of their own officers. The catch is that these men are volunteer mine-detectors, and as such, because the job is dangerous one, are allowed almost complete freedom of movement.

The volunteers are divided into three companies and since the liberation of France they have neutralized over 200,000 mines in the Dunkerque region. In the process they have lost 52 men—victims of their own country's war material.

The German soldier volunteers are allowed to drive their own cars around Dunkerque, being given gasoline by the French administration. They prefer to do this dangerous work and remain "disarmed troops" rather than prisoners. They live in the German-made blockhouses where they were quartered before Dunkerque surrendered.

The German mine detecting squads are under the supervision of the French government department of bridges and roads, and the French railroad society. Their officers must make regular reports of their work to these authorities, and these reports are checked for accuracy. When the Germans surrendered they turned over their maps of mine-fields to the British and these, now in the hands of

COLDS FIGHT MISERY where you feel it—rub throat, chest and back with time-tested VICKS VAPORUB

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"We have only just begun to fight"

We were sitting around Bill Webster's fire the other night, enjoying a mellow glass of beer, and talking—now that the war is over—about what Peace really means.

"I can tell you one thing it doesn't mean," says Bill. "It doesn't mean that we can all relax—and take things easy—and figure we're living in Utopia."

"You're right," Judge Cunningham agrees. "Peace means, among other things, eternal vigilance. Free men are still at war with hatred, prejudice, intolerance—whether it's intolerance of a man's political beliefs, or of his right to choose between a glass of beer or buttermilk."

From where I sit, the Judge is absolutely right. Peace means continued vigilance—continued struggle against all the forces of intolerance that caused the last war, and can sow the seeds of future conflict. Maybe we should paraphrase the slogan of a Revolutionary hero: "We have only just begun to fight."
